

Race for Second Place Is Becoming a Scramble.

On the anti-Dubois faction, headed by K. L. Perky, had gathered last night at one side of the hall in which the convention was held. Perky had declared against an anti-Mormon plank in the national platform and had been the target of a tirade later in the evening, when they reassembled and held an orderly session. Dubois and Henry Halden, T. H. Jackson, Harry L. Day, Timothy H. Smith, and others were the speakers in favor of the national convention. The resolutions adopted in favor of the United States Senators by direct vote, enactment of income tax and inheritance tax laws, granting of a national bank, State banks and capitalization between labor and capital.

On State Issues the convention was divided into two groups, favoring primary initiative and referendum, anti-pass law and effective variegated laws, and a strong support of the anti-pass law.

KETCHEL WINS TERRIFIC BOUT.

Forces Papke All Over Ring for Ten Rounds.

Thunderbolt Sent to Knees Twice by Westerner.

Fast and Furious Battle in Milwaukee Ring.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) June 1.—Stanley Ketchel of Grand Rapids, Mich., was given the decision over Billy Papke of Kansas, Ill., at the end of a fast and furious ten-round bout before the Milwaukee Boxing Club at the Hippodrome building tonight.

The contest was a terrific affair from the tap of the gong to the finish, with the exception of the time during which the men were engaged in clinching. Time and again Ketchel forced his man to the ropes with his furious onslaughts of rights and lefts to the head and body.

Ketchel was on top of his man from going to ground without giving him a moment's rest, except when they were in clinches. Ketchel appealed to the referee to break the clinches repeatedly. Only in the eighth round did Papke have an even break.

Ketchel, in the first round, took considerable steam out of his man by landing a terrific right to the jaw, sending Papke to his knees. The Grand Rapids man worked the right and left shift to good advantage, and bewildered Papke in his attempts to get to him.

At Ketchel, as was said by some, is a bit slow, he did not show it tonight. Not even for a minute did he let his man rest.

At the end of the last round Papke was plainly in distress and would hardly have lasted another round.

Both men trained faithfully, and were in the pink of condition. Hugo Kelly, Sam Langford, Jack Twin Sullivan, Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia, Pink Russell and Peter Jackson challenged the winner. Jackson offered to put up a side bet of $500 for a match.

The biggest crowd in the history of the boxing game in Milwaukee witnessed the contest. Among the notable spectators were Jimmy Coffroth and Abe Attell of California; Joe Gans of Baltimore; Frank McFarland of Chicago and Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler.

Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia was the referee.

The betting before the contest was slightly in favor of Ketchel.

First round—Both men rushed out of their corners, and Papke landed a right to Ketchel's stomach. Ketchel sent a right to stomach, and Ketchel two lefts to stomach. Papke sent a right to stomach, and Ketchel rushed Papke and uppercut him. The round ended with the men in a clinch.

Second round—They came out like two furious lions, and went at each other. Papke got in a left to the stomach, and both men then landed right and left. Papke landed right and left to jaw, and Jarred Papke. Ketchel did good work. Both swung wildly. Ketchel tried to force left to jaw while in a clinch. Papke landed right to neck. Papke rushed and Ketchel landed a light blow to neck. Papke slipped to his knees.

Fifth round—Papke sent two to the jaw. Both men were bleeding. Ketchel landed left to stomach. Ketchel butted Papke and Papke sent left to jaw. Papke swung vicious blows to jaw and stomach, backing Ketchel up.

Seventh round—Papke sent left to the jaw and they clinched. Ketchel delivered left to ear and another to stomach, which doubled Papke up. Ketchel did good fighting. Ketchel forced Papke to a corner again. Papke received several punches on the body, and was forced to the ropes. Ketchel sent a hard right to stomach.

and Papke sagged slightly. Both men were tired. Papke backed around the ring.

Eighth round—Ketchel forced Papke around the ring. Papke hit Ketchel low, and Ketchel complained, but the referee did not heed. Ketchel forced Papke to the ropes. It was slam-bang, both men trying to get in a knock-out punch. Both men were fighting hard when the round ended.

Ninth round—Both missed swings. Papke sent a terrific left to neck, but Ketchel sent a damaging uppercut to face. Ketchel landed left to stomach twice. Ketchel got in a furious left to stomach. Ketchel forced Papke around the ring, and both men were tired. Ketchel swung right and left and missed left and right. Papke backed up. Ketchel followed him and landed a right to stomach. Papke landed a furious left to Ketchel's mouth. Ketchel forced Papke to the ropes, and staggered him with left and right to jaw. Ketchel got the decision.

Shuts Them Out and Allows but Two Singles.

Champions Belt Johnson All Over the Lot.

Jud Smith Surprises Natives by Fine Work.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Portland could not do a thing to Dolly Gray's curves today, and was shut out, with only two hits, one of them being of the pinch-hit variety along the third base line, by Danzig, and the other a clean single by Bassey. On the other hand, Los Angeles took kindly to Johnson's curves, and pounded out nine hits, including two two-baggers by Jud Smith and a three-bagger by Ellis.

One of the features of the game was McCredie's fall over a boy in the right field crowd while chasing a long foul, and another was Dillon's catch of Casey's foul near the wire net off first base.

Los Angeles left off with Oakes striking out and Wheeler flying out to Bassey. Dillon was out, Casey to Danzig. For Portland, Casey was out from Wheeler to Dillon. Ryan beat the atmosphere with his last out, and Rattery flew out to Jud Smith.

In the second, Bassey, first up, struck out, and Smith connected with one of Johnson's shots, and sent it to left field for two bases, and took third on Ellis's out.

Danzig, first up for Portland, waited for four wide ones, and went on to second when Bassey sacrificed. Johnson grounded out to Dillon, and McCredie was out. Wheeler to Dillon. Hogan got a base on balls, and came out in trying to steal second. Dolly Gray flew out to Ryan, and Oakes was walked. Wheeler ended the inning by flying to Rattery.

McCredie and Casey struck out, and Casey flew out to Ellis.

With Dillon and Bassey out in the fourth, Jud Smith soaked one on the nose to Danzig, and Danzig scored. Dolly Gray flew out to Ryan, and Oakes was walked. Wheeler ended the inning by flying to Rattery.

Dr. J. C. Taylor's first duty to eradicate a disease from the world is to ascertain the cause of that disease and then to remove it.

coffee is a blessing—a necessity—an every-day
coffee cannot be good or wholesome or pure if the germ of evil is first removed. This is the germ of evil so far as coffee goes. It is the germ of evil, but brings about ill effects—nervous, indigestion, etc.

Dr. J. C. Taylor's coffee, free from this herbal matter, is the purest and most healthful coffee in the world.
It is the germ of evil, but brings about ill effects—

CONSOLIDATED BANK

Concern Is in Bad Shape—Had Real Estate and Railroad Annex.

TS strong box empty, and not enough cash on hand to pay ordinary checking accounts, the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, with rooms in the Chamber of Commerce building, South Broadway, was closed yesterday by order of Bank Commissioners.

various schemes engineered by the ingenious financier.
The Consolidated Bank directorate
consists of Carlsson, Miss McKittick, Miss M. C. McFarland, C. E. Swanson
and J. A. Aguirre. Aside from Carlsson, these officers are considered by the

CONSOLIDATED BANK

1 4%

Bank Commissioners

Bank Commissioners to be mere figure-heads, and they are not held responsible for its present crippled condition.

The deposits are mostly of the working class, the individual accounts not running much above $100. Four per cent interest has been paid on turn deposits, and many of the customers are owners of lots in the Redondo Ocean Villa tract. Payments on the lots were made at the rate of $4 monthly, and upon the payment of $30 the purchaser was promised a clear title to the lot.

Carlsson's scheme has been ridiculed
by other real estate men, and his bank has always been considered in the light of a joke by financial men.

It was supposed the concern would have a hard time weathering the temporary flurry of last fall, but, owing to the fact that Carlsson had placed the bank on term deposit, it was unnecessary for the estate head of the bank to pay out any money on demand.

When the Bank Commissioners, in making their rounds of the local banks, saw the Consolidated Bank, they immediately decided that, to protect the depositors, the institution should be closed pending an investigation.

"The bank is certainly in bad shape,"
said Commissioner Vawter yesterday.
"but we have not had time to make any extended examination as yet. If the deposits have been diverted to purposes other than prescribed by law, it will be a matter for the District Attorney to look into. We shall endeavor to safeguard the interests of the depositors in the meantime, and have placed an investigation in charge of the concern's affairs."

Carlsson is well known to many of
the local bankers, including Bank
Commissioner John C. Lynch. The
latter said tonight he had not met Carlsson in several years, and was positive that he had not called at the office of the Bank Commissioners recently.

"I was at the office until 5 o'clock
today, and if Mr. Carlson had been
there, I would have been arrested,"
said Commissioner Lynch. "We know nothing of Carlson's bank having been taken over, and if such a thing had been taken over, we would
be made aware of it until we received
mail advices to that effect."

NOT BEEN THERE.
SAN FRANCISCO REPORT.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) If William H. Carlsson arrived in San Francisco, as has been reported from Los Angeles, he has kept his whereabouts a mystery.
As far as could be learned today and tonight, he had registered at none of the hotels, and he has not been seen by any of his friends or acquaintances in this city.

Carlsson is well known to many of
the local bankers, including Bank
Commissioner John C. Lynch. The
latter said tonight he had not met
Carlsson in several years, and was positive that he had not called at the office of the Bank Commissioners recently.

"I was at the office until 5 o'clock
today, and if Mr. Carlson had been
there, I would have been arrested,"
said Commissioner Lynch. "We
know nothing of Carlson's bank having been taken over, and if such a
thing had been taken over, we would
be made aware of it until we received
mail advices to that effect."

"ONE MAN" CONCERN.
The Consolidated Bank has been known as a "one-man" institution.
Carlsson conducted it according to his own ideas, and never took the public or the depositors into his confidence.
It is supposed to have a capital stock paid in, of $25,000, and the deposits approximately $40,000. It never has issued any reliable statement, so far as is known, nor does it have any booklets giving the names of the directors, and other information commonly issued by reputable financial concerns.

Carlsson, aside from his duties as president of his queer little bank, is head of the Los Angeles Securities company, a real estate concern having offices in the rooms of the Consolidated Bank. He never figured in public, however, as promoter of the Securities concern. The speculatively attractive literature of the real estate of the bank, indeed, contains a glowing testimonial signed by Carlsson
as president of the bank, and the Consolidated Bank is given as the principal reference.

For some time the method employed by the Los Angeles Securities Company in selling lots in the Redondo Ocean Villa tract has been under investigation by the Los Angeles Realty Board, and its secretary, Herbert Burdett, classes the project among the numerous impossible schemes foisted upon the public through false representation.

PRIVILEGED A RAILROAD.
Some time ago, Carlsson promoted a short branch electric railroad, which was ostensibly designed to connect his tract with the lines of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company, passing through Hermosa Beach and other points. It is believed that the bank was merely a feeder for carrying out

This is the news received last night by The Times in a dispatch from Brooklyn, N. Y., where Dr. Locke now presides over Hanson Place M. E.
Church. He is the only man the local church has ever considered for Dr.
McIntyre's successor, and the local delegation to the General Conference went to Baltimore instructed to make every effort to secure the consent of Dr. Locke to be transferred to California, in case Dr. McIntyre was chosen a bishop.

Dr. Locke was the first and only choice, and the First Church is to be congratulated upon the success of its emancipation, in the person of Dr. H. W.
Broderick and Dr. A. W. Adkinson, who are members of the pulpitsupply committee. The delegates are en route home and are expected to arrive today. They will be surprised to learn that the news has preceded them.

There is a peculiar fitness in the coming of Dr. Locke to the First Church of Los Angeles, inasmuch as he preached the sermon at the laying of its corner-stone, on Sunday, 23, 1887, while he was pastor of Central Church, San Francisco.

ON COAST BEFORE.
Dr. Locke served two pastorates on this Coast, first at Portland and then at San Francisco. From the latter place he went to Buffalo, N. Y., and thence to Brooklyn. In his greatest church there, the distinction is enjoyed of having the largest Sunday-school in the denomination, which school in connection with the First Church of Los Angeles takes second place. Dr. Broderick is superintendent of the school, and he is said to have his eye on the banner for Los Angeles when he entered upon the task of bringing back the pastor of the greatest congregation.

A few sentences from the sermon delivered by Dr. Locke at the dedication of this city, will serve to give some idea of the character of the man, who is declared to be one of the greatest orators of the age. He said:

"I will tell you, my friends, that this city is a place of great promise, and it is our duty to see that it is not lost. We must have a city that is worthy of the name of Los Angeles, and we must have a city that is

WIFE'S TONGUE DOES TRICK.

Man's Lurid Past Exposed by Chance Remark.

Angry Former Spouse Gives Secret Away.

Evidence in Extortion Case Is Now All in.

All the other reputations having been torn to tatters, the name of Mrs. Minnie Owens-Evans was brought to the trial of Dr. Owens yesterday. On the witness stand, Owens tried to show that her former wife has never been married to his successor her affections—J. Whyte Evans. The taking of testimony was completed.

Both Owens and Evans were on the stand and Dr. Owens was, in a measure, moved to tears—when a name of his dead child was mentioned.

First Evans's entry "past" was exposed through the chance remark of former wife who was very angry. It was Dr. Owens, the defendant, who wrote letters to another man, before Evans, threatening to expose his past. If he did not pay a bill, were among the interesting points that developed.

Owens was having his turn on the stand when his attorney asked: "What did you mean in your letter to Evans by writing, 'the woman with whom you are now living'?" An objection to the question was made by Evans's counsel.

"Did you make an effort to find out Evans was ever married to your former wife—Mrs. Minnie Owens?"

"I asked Evans and also my former wife where they were married, but they always refused to tell me when asked."

"Did you see a deposition in which Evans was asked if he was married?" "Yes, he swore he was married, but didn't say where."

"Did you investigate a report that Evans had been married in New York and did you fail to find any record of his marriage there?" "No," Dr. Owens replied.

"Did you not see them occupying apartments that adjoined each other in the door between the apartments?" "No, before they made any claim to be married."

"Did you not see a few days after his wife secured a divorce he sent a telegram saying that she Evans was coming to Chicago, and that he was coming to meet her?" "Yes, I saw that telegram," Dr. Owens admitted.

"Did you not see that Evans was coming to Chicago, and that he was coming to meet her?" "Yes, I saw that telegram," Dr. Owens admitted.

CHAPTER XLI.
THE GATEWAY OF THE EAST.

The diplomat would say nothing more. When pressed by Charlie Rolfe he said that it was a surprise. Until the truth was proved he refused to speak more plainly.

"You declare that the plot by which an innocent child died was formed by a friend of mine?" the younger man exclaimed.

"I tell you that such is my firm belief," Sir Charles repeated. "Tomorrow I will endeavor to discover whether the same influence that caused the explosion of the bomb at Topcheider is responsible for the doctor's disappearance."

"But cannot you be more explicit?" asked Rolfe. "Who is the assassin—the murderer of children?"

"At present I can say no more than what I have already told you," was the diplomat's grave response. "You believe that the same motive has led to the doctor's disappearance as was the cause of the bomb outrage at Topcheider?"

"I do." "Then much depends upon the doctor's death?" "Very much. His enemies would reap a large profit."

"His enemies in the Skupstchina, you mean?" "Yes—and others."

"He had private enemies also—secret ones that were even more dangerous than the blatant political orators." "Then private vengeance was the cause?"

"No—not exactly; at least, I think not," Sir Charles replied. "But please ask me more. I will tell you the truth when I have established it."

"I wish I could discover where Maud is. Surely it is strange that the Prime Minister's wife should have said she met her lately here, in Belgrade."

"Maud Petrovitch is not in Serbia. I am certain of that point."

The rule of King Peter—magnified though that monarch had been—had brought beneficent reforms to Serbia. And yet there was an opposition who, against him, and to charge him with taking part in a plot of the true meaning of which he certainly had had no knowledge.

Belgrade is a city in which plots against the monarchy are hinted at and whispered in the corners of drawing-rooms where diplomacy is a matter of intrigue, a city of spies and sycophants, of concession-hunters and political chieftains. Gay, pleasant, and easy-going, with its fine boulevard, its pretty Kalemegdan Garden, and its spick-and-span new streets, it is different from any other capital of Europe; more full of tragedy, more full of plot and counterplot.

Austria is there ever seeking by her swarms of secret agents to stir up strife and to organize demonstrations against the reigning dynasty. Germany is there seeking influence and making promises. Turkey is silent and spectral, and Great Britain looks on neutral, but noting every move of the deep diplomatic juggling of the powers.

At night amid the clatter, the laughter, and the merry music of the Grand Café, with its restaurant adjoining, the stranger would never dream of its close proximity to the tragedy of a bomb, to the death of a monarch.

"Then he is still unknown?" exclaimed Rolfe in surprise. "Save perhaps three persons, of whom I am one."

"And also the man who threw the bomb?" "I have heard that the solitary confinement in a dark cell has already worked its effect upon him. He is hopelessly insane."

"The person who formed the plot against the monarch?" "Yes, that is the cat's-paw should be there, too—or even instead of him," declared Sir Charles angrily. "The peasant suffers, while the culprit gets off scot-free and unknown."

"Then he is still unknown?" exclaimed Rolfe in surprise. "Save perhaps three persons, of whom I am one."

Editorial Points

In politics a man is read out of his party. In literature he writes himself out.

From the reports, it would seem that Fighting Bob's son is acquiring a fighting title of his own.

Perhaps the reason women dread a political year is because it keeps their men out so late of nights.

Is Mr. Bryan losing his wind? His speech at North Platte consumed only one little, measly hour.

Mr. Taft's friends need have no fear of the result. The statements of the allies are all lies, or nearly so.

The outlook for business at the present writing is so good that it seems to have even made Jim Hill shut up.

In the race up there in Oregon between Chamberlain and Calk, the returns indicate that Chamberlain took it.

According to the dispatches, the signs of returning prosperity are getting to be as thick as women at a bargain sale.

Counting events cast their shadows before, and nobody will deny that Mr. Taft can cast the biggest shadow of them all.

The "allies" having shown a renewed boldness, it might be well for Mr. Taft to imitate the Kaiser and rattle his saber a little.

"The human brain is a muscle," says a noted scientist. We have met many people who are living proofs of the assertion.

Talk is cheap, but owing to his great output of the commodity, William J. Bryan manages to make considerable money out of it.

The Butte Miners' Union is at last in the control of socialists. Sometimes these things go slowly, but the red road is reached in time.

We notice that the Chicago convention will be opened with prayer by Bishop Muldoon. After that everything will be solid for Taft.

When John D. addressed Cardinal Logue as "your eminence," the cardinal should have addressed his guest as "your billonence."

The worry of the campaign is not causing Mr. Taft to lose a pound of flesh, although he could lose several pounds and hardly notice it.

Cardinal Logue says Mr. Rockefeller is "a fine gentleman." Evidently the cardinal has never engaged in the oil business in this country.

An eastern doctor asserts that the United States is fast becoming a nation of appendicitis victims, owing to the way we live. Let's cut it out.

As a rule, when the average man reaches the age of about 60 years, he is seized with an almost uncontrollable desire to write his reminiscences.

The assertion of King David to the effect that all men are liars reminds us that the summer fishing season has opened up again at Catalina.

In another black fit of pessimism Jim Hill announces that he is prepared to extend his railroad from Winnipeg clear up and into Saskatchewan.

Uncle Joe Cannon states in an interview that he "is willing to stand on the record of the last Congress," which he spent some time in sitting on.

Now for the third time has the President tried to make it as clear as words can make it that he will under no circumstances accept a third term.

Happily for even the humblest American citizen, he gets a chance with the biggest of them to save the country at least once in every four years.

The most striking proof that the world is gradually relapsing into a state of profound peace is furnished by the fact that Rudyard Kipling seldom writes poetry any more.

Nobody should make the mistake of supposing that all this fuss has been made over Jeff Davis, down South, has anything to do with Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas.

"Costly your raiment as your purse can buy," said Shakespeare, which proves that the sublime bard himself was often forced to write advertisements for the tailors in order to keep the wolf from the door.

The Union Pacific is able to pay a 15 per cent. dividend this year, and it seems that all the other roads are also doing well. But, let them beware; Robbie Loucks and Silver Dick Warner are still on the trail.

We cannot imagine anything that young ladies at a reception or a ball would have over more than a young naval officer who cowed a crowd of thugs at the point of his pistol, besides slugging about seventeen of them with his fists.

In yesterday's news columns it was related that at Cozad, Neb., the peerless leader "was greeted by 112 survivors of the Bryan Club of 1896." But how they have managed to survive all this time is a mystery that has not been explained.

LYING THEN, OR NOW? OR ALL THE TIME?

Why the rift in the lute? Why the discordant note in the concert? What converted a "glorious victory" into disastrous defeat, indeed, into a general and irretrievable rout?

Long before the May primaries were held, the holier-than-thou leaguers, according to their organs, had swept the State from end to end, from mountain crest to sea wave. At the primaries (as reported by the Los Angeles Express and San Francisco Call), they smashed an alleged machine into bits so small they were microscopic. After the votes had all been counted, and the results became a known quantity, the alleluias of the leaguers rose sky-high in one long, sweet song. The Luncheon-Rounders had the political pig by the tail with a grip like a vise.

When the convention met at Sacramento the insurrectionists were the whole show, rooting in two big tents, likewise all the side shows, including the litter of educated pigs, the old ladies with their beards, and the band of jass-axes, with their heads where their tails ought to have been, so declared half the luncheon-leaguers. The Jap Banzai League never made half the noise with which the Luncheon League rent the circumambient air. Political history never recorded such a sweeping victory—according to "Chet" Rowell. The colophon was put to the victory in the particular discomfiture of the "programmers," who would follow immemorial custom in naming the temporary chairman, and the pitching of that arch-conspirator, Gen. George Stone, out on the scrap heap. Blenheim was nothing to this victory for the self-righteous scoundrels after office. Future political Peterlins would find skeletons of the wrecked machine in out-of-the-way places, carry them to daddy, and be told of the "glorious victory."

The Taft managers were duly informed by the Lincoln-Roosevelt bosses (by wire, too), of what had taken place, and were tendered the services of the allies of T. Dore Bell of Napa, way stations and places adjacent, in the plot to carry the State in the fall elections. The three great representatives of the league who pulled through by a scratch with the aid of "Red" Fennessy were to overshadow the other seventeen delegates and do all the representing of the State at Chicago.

And this campaign of shouting, of claiming all in sight, and even things invisible, has never stopped. The organs of the Luncheon League, which stand for Bell of Napa and all the suburbs of all the cities in the State, the organs which ring this Bell as the coming candidate for United States Senator, which play up whole pages of Billy Bryan and all the little platitudes from Lincoln, Neb., and make a display with black-type headlines and profuse illustration of the Denver convention, while the Republican plans are hidden under yards of low-priced display "ads" (vide Rebater Earl's Express of June 3), have never corrected one statement, pre-primary, pre- or post-convention. Like the laws of the Medes and Persians, all the assertions still stand. They are as indelible as a Chinese imperial edict written on vermilion.

Victory! Why, it was simply glorious—the Express recounted it! George Knight was cast into outer darkness, and Gen. Stone was ground to fine dust! Landslides, popular uprisings, rebukes of corrupt politics, breaking of machines and what not were all eclipsed forever by the achievements of the philosophers who have learned wisdom in Oregon and in Oklahoma, at Lincoln, Neb., and Napa, Cal.; who are in alliance with walking delegates, join Haywood in consigning courts to Hades, and Heney in sending juries wholesale to the same summer resort. Their idols number such spiritual influences in politics as La Follette, and in industrial affairs their head deity is John Mitchell. It is whispered that the name Lincoln, as affected by this self-righteous coterie of political aspirants, has reference to the home city of Mr. Bryan. The Roosevelt end of the title has not yet been explained to the satisfaction of the people.

But why the gloom that makes all faces sad? To be sure, George Knight presided over the convention. He could have done so by virtue of appointment. But the luncheon-counter political pickers set up a cry that in a fair election they could select that able statesman, Chester Rowell, or Red Fennessy. The chairmanship was by election, and the delegates preferred Knight. Then went up a mighty wail that Gen. Stone, who was on the firing line when we carried the State triumphantly for William McKinley and for Theodore Roosevelt, was altogether a most undesirable citizen. But lo! Gen. Stone said he was tired of the job and did not want the place of manager. And so all went merry as a Napa Bell for a few moments. Knight was fly in the ointment, but anyhow, Gen. Stone was cast out into the scrap heap. He would be heard of no more.

Then came the rift in the lute, and the concert was like Napa Bell, all jangled out of tune and harsh. The Taft people at the East, with a perverse leaning to corruptionists in politics and an awful blindness to machine existence, an obtuse inability to comprehend the machinations of an octopus, sent word out here that Mr. Knight should have a voice in naming Secretary Taft at Chicago, as he had four years ago in placing Mr. Roosevelt before the convention. That was awful, Mabel! But it might have been swallowed, gulped down, bolted solid, if the same Taft people had not made a demand that Gen. Stone (the Stone of stumbling and the block of offense) should take the reins in hand and conduct the California campaign under the wire ahead of the Democratic donkeys, jockeyed by Mr. Bell of Napa.

It was a great and unmatched victory, sure enough. Such a victory was never heard of before. Pyrrhus, King of Epirus, said: "a victory: 'Another such and we are undone.' The luncheon-counter pie-seekers beat this. They need wait for no further event. They are ruined beyond redemption by their one great victory.

And now, without having corrected or retracted a single assertion that they "won the primaries," "swept the State," "cast out Gen. Stone," "kept George Knight at home," "overturned the machine," captured the State committee, "controlled the campaign" and completely annihilated the whole Republican organization, what are these Lincoln-Roosevelt newspaper organs doing? Roaring like stuck and rebated pigs, growling amid sheets of tears, that the "machine gagged them" at Sacramento; that "the machine has every man on the State Executive Committee," with not one representative of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League; that "California is still in the grasp of the machine" (sic); that no Lincoln-Roosevelt orator will be permitted to speak in the campaign; that a "two years' fight is before the league for the control of the State;" that Walter Parker and George Stone are still on the Executive Committee, although they fired them off; that "the Lincoln-Roosevelt leaders are completely ignored." Some mistake somewhere! Were the Express and the Call lying about their glorious victory, or are they lying now? Or lying all the time?

The choir will please sing "Selah!" while the chorus answers "Huh!"

John Hays Hammond, one of the most successful men in the United States, aspires to be Vice-President. He wants to run with Taft. Would not that be a strong team of pullers? Hammond is a golden son of the Golden Sunset, and shows his devotion to his native land by offering to throw up a $50,000 annual salary for a $50,000 salary—his patriotism standing $50,000 to the good.

ALISON TRIUMPHANT.

In the triumph of Senator Allison over Gov. Cummins in Iowa, there are millions of Americans who will rejoice.

William Boyd Allison's great age (he is on the verge of 80) was a drawback to his usefulness and a fair reason under ordinary circumstances for his retirement. But the attack made upon this able and faithful public servant, who has represented his State so long in Congress, was virulent and unfair. The Hawkeye people rebuked this warfare on a man who has done so much good work for the country and for the State.

The general result in Iowa is reassuring. The conservative forces have held their own in a State where the radicals are very strong. The commonwealth is among the most dependent on agriculture of all the States, and with fewer manufacturing interests than almost any. Such communities are always rampant for low tariffs. The radical tariff revisionists have been very numerous and very active there. That they have accomplished so little in Iowa indicates their lack of strength. They are not so dangerous as many of us supposed.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Men Growing Younger.

The fruitful activity of men over 60, and even 70, years of age is a phenomenon far more frequently observed today than it was 100 years ago. Napoleon's career was over at 46; Von Moltke's can scarcely be said to have begun, so far as great achievements were concerned, till he was nearly 70. What is true of war is true of diplomacy, of law, of medicine, of every field of work in which mental and physical energy is indispensable. When, in a word, we examine impartially all the data, weighing accurately all the evidence pro and con, we seem justified in taking an optimistic rather than pessimistic view of the effect of civilization on the bodily well-being and longevity of man.—(New York Sun.)

The Seat of Life.

Dr. Sajons, dean of the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia, is alleged to have discovered the seat of life to be located in the pituitary body at the base of the brain. The researches of Dr. Sajons have extended over twenty years, and have demonstrated that the great or "noble" organs of the human body, such as the heart, lungs, liver, etc., are really subsidiary to the true dominant organs, namely, the ductless glands, known as the adrenals, the thyroid and the pituitary body. So supremely important a part is played by the secretions of these glands, and especially the pituitary body at the base of the brain, in the automatic resistance to poisons in the blood, that this body is believed to be the real seat of life in the animal organism. The adrenal secretion sustains the chief role in the distribution of oxygen. This great work for the first time makes an absolutely scientific system of treatment for disease possible and makes certain various treatments heretofore used, but which were only guesswork.

The Marvelous Lynoscope.

John Wellesley Lynn, the inventor of the lynoscope, with which it is claimed anybody can see around the world, claims that he has proved by actual experience that his instrument will:

- (1) Allow people in London to see any one in America instantaneously.
- (2) Reflect any written message at once to the most distant places.
- (3) Enable any person to see right through any human being or solid substances as if they were not there.

The lynoscope consists of three distinct instruments, the operator, the transmitter and the receiver. The operator is like a large square box, with a hole at each end, mounted on the end of a telegraph pole, while the transmitter is a similar box. It contains, however, a telescopic arrangement, which focuses the image from the operator. At the other end, where the image is to be reflected, is another box-like arrangement. At one end it has a large brass funnel, like a phonograph, and at the other a screen, on which the image is reflected, as in a looking-glass. All that is necessary in sending reflections any distance over land is to fix a transmitter on the highest available point—a hilltop or a tower—and the image is correctly reflected in the receiver. The inventor claims to have secured perfect reflections at a distance of 186 miles, and to have photographed scenes eighty miles away.

New Cure for Diphtheria.

Dr. Ernest Jentich of Chicago declares he has found a new and efficient cure for diphtheria in lobelia injected hypodermically. He proved his faith in the new treatment by treating his son when he was sick with diphtheria a year ago. The son recovered, and since then he says he has cured 150 cases of the disease with the remedy.

Will Make Diamonds.

Lemoine's preparations for the manufacture of diamonds at his laboratory at St. Denis, near Paris, are now complete, and he is ready to begin work. The complaints which he has been making to the judge about people seeking to persecute him and prevent him from working or obtaining proper electric power have aroused the suspicion in judicial circles that some accident or explosion, or a fire, may interrupt a definite test. According to the present arrangements, no expert will assist in the fabrication if the stones. Their form and dimensions will be excluded all possibilities or fraud, as Lemoine has promised to produce one with a density of 3.5 although the average density is only 3.5 of cylindrical form, six centimeters long and three centimeters in diameter, giving a weight of 100 grams, or 3.5 karats. Experts will only be called in to decide whether the stone is really a diamond.

WAY TO SUCCESS.

All wish for success. Some seek it. Some find, some miss it. Many try to teach others how to succeed. Their ways are often tortuous, rough and difficult.

Here is an easy lesson which will help us to success. An architect in the city last winter was supervising the erection of a building. The day was clear, and closed with no sign of rain. About midnight the architect awoke, and heard it raining very hard. He was far from the building, and the cars were not running between his home and the new structure, more than a mile away. The thought flashed into his mind that the workmen might have left the skylight in the roof open, and that if this were the case, the grain would damage the almost completed building. He arose, dressed, walked a mile in the rain and closed the skylight, then walked back to his home. That man is a successful architect, and chief among the qualities which make him successful is his faithfulness to any trust reposed in him.

Shrewdness, tact, zeal, energy, are all necessary to win success. But these are, for the most part, gifts, and some cannot be acquired. One man has much zeal, but he has poor judgment; he fails. Another is endowed with an abundance of energy, but has no shrewdness. The next has earnestness, but little or no tact.

Faithfulness is a characteristic which all may have who will pay the price. It cost the architect the sacrifice of his comfort to go a mile in a heavy rain to save his employer a few hundred dollars. The man who cared only for his own interests would not have done it. And the person whose mind is all wrapped up in self-interest seldom succeeds.

ALAS! MERE MAN!

There has been no peace for the sons of Adam since Eve came on the scene. All went well in Eden until that fascinating creature appeared. She was bad enough in her unadorned beauty, but when she took to decorating herself with fig leaves she became utterly irresistible. Had it been the unadorned loveliness of Adam's wife, he might have been mean enough to have turned State's evidence, stayed in Paradise and sent his better half out into the cold world alone. But beauty in fig leaves was too much for Adam. He would follow that to the ends of the earth. Better a crust eaten in the sweat of his face than the volunteer crops of the Garden.

Since then the daughters of Eve have learned a few lessons. From the fig leaf they have turned to the mulberry leaf, duly spun so fine by the worm, and then made into a concoction by the cunning brain and deft fingers of a dozen daughters of Eve, who all inherit the decorative art from the lady of the fig leaf. It has gone from bad to worse. Shakespeare, who made a matrimonial mistake and married a shrew, makes fair Beatrice, another shrew, say, "Men have died ere now and worms have eaten them, but not of love." Base libel! Adam committed suicide for the lady of the leaf, and his sons have gone down to death in squads since then for ladies adorned in all the fetching creations of the milliners and the dress-makers. Did you never read that old story of Helen and Paris and all the men who fell around the walls of Troy for that most fair, most false daughter of Eve—and think you the flowing grace of the Grecian robes had nothing to do with Helen's power to lead men to fall upon the sword's point for her?

And look at this summer in the year of grace, 1908. Here we have the evolution of the fig-leaf idea to perfection. For all these years Eve's fair and fascinating daughters have been combining their fig leaves in ever more bewildering fashion. The latest-born year of the latest-born century puts the finishing touch on the fig-leaf business.

The sheath gown—it is on the way and will be on the shapely form of the girls on the street while one can say, "One, two, three." It is a happy thing that vacation is at hand and the mountains near. Let a Los Angeles girl don a merry widow hat and one of these newest fig-leaf fashions, and no man's heart can escape breaking. Ladies, ladies, for heaven's dear sake, do not go too fast! Give us a chance for our lives!

HOROSCOPE.

Friday, June 5, 1908.

Morning brightly rise on the horizon's rim
And make the leaves of the vernal dim.

Planets and moon this 15th day confront in evil aspects. Mercury in quartile with Saturn. Neptune in semi-square with the moon, and the moon in trine-square with Uranus, are all unfavorable, portending ill results to any extraordinary ventures or risks taken in this period of twenty-four hours about to ensue.

Go heedfully on the paths "well worn by questing feet," and hesitate and ponder well ere thou pusheth into the unseen or unknown in the search for a new path through a new and hitherto untried field.

Sign neither contract nor deed till it has been studied minutely, and all clauses have been weighed with a clear, unbiased mind. This day a desire for gain is likely to cloud judgment.

Quarrels between the sexes are likely to arise through jests or untactful actions, and words that would pass unheeded and harmless in other less critical periods.

UTILIZING OCEAN'S WAVES. Los Angeles Inventor's Device for Unlimited Power from the Waves and Tides.

The problem of utilizing the waves of the ocean for power purposes has occupied the attention of scientific men and inventors for generations. Many different devices have been suggested, but the complete solution of the problem only to have their inefficiency proved by their attempted operation. One of the latest propositions for utilizing this enormous power now going to waste is that of George Noble Todd of this city, who has developed plans for pumping water by the motion of the waves or tides into pneumatic and closed reservoirs, whence it will be forced by air pressure into reservoirs or towers or against a Pelton water wheel for the generation of electricity or for other purposes. Mr. Todd's plans are ingenious. His invention works on an entirely new and novel principle of gravity force, one pressing up, the other pressing down, arranged and adapted to resist and counterbalance each other, and join together in one common power force. The invention comprises the equipment and use of the constant upward water pressure of the ocean, counterbalanced by the downward air pressure confined in a pneumatic reservoir. These pressures are to be obtained by the construction of a series of concrete piers provided with a central pneumatic reservoir and pumps, the latter operated by the lower motor vessels which float in the passageways between the piers. These vessels are pivoted by a central axle to rise and fall vertically and also to rise and fall on each end under the rise and fall of the waves and tides, similar to the movement of a vessel of any character floating on the surface of the water. The proposed lever vessels are estimated to each have a lifting pressure of 3,000 pounds or 200 horse power. Mr. Todd's plans are now before the Supervisors of San Francisco and New York, he seeking a franchise for supplying water for the fire department, streets and sewers of those cities. A local company is also being formed at Los Angeles and Santa Monica, parties to put in a plant at Santa Monica and Venice to generate electricity and pump salt water to Los Angeles. Mr. Todd and his associates have organized "The Ocean Power Company," with a capital of $10,000,000.

I Take It
You all remember that pleasing axiom that a penny saved is a penny earned. But I think that Franklin's logic is better, that "A penny saved is twofold clear." Franklin's theory was evidently that a dollar saved would earn another dollar with the effluxion of time in the only savings bank that flourished in Franklin's day. But money will not double under 18 years at four per cent., so my theory would be that a dollar spent is two dollars gained if wisely invested—say in a box of Christopher's glace fruits or Brownie Chocolate. They are certainly delicious.

Are You a Lard Eater?

Half the time when a person feels blue and out of sorts you may take it for granted that he is a victim of the "lard habit." Lard-cooked food and good stomachs are never friends for long. Lard food is not healthful food and no ordinary stomach can thoroughly digest it.

Lard comes from the pig-sty; Cottolene from the cotton fields of The Sunny South. Lard is greasy, indigestible, and sometimes absolutely harmful; Cottolene makes food digestible, nutritious, delicious. Cottolene is the perfect shortening and frying medium. It is pure and healthful. It contains not an ounce of hog-fat.

Cottolene is today in use by thousands of housewives who would no more think of going back to lard than they would of reverting to tallow dips for lighting their homes.

Cottolene is one of the products which pure food advocates always endorse.

GOES EAST FROM SANTA ANA TO ADVERTISE PRODUCTS.
SANTA ANA, June 4.—The Chamber of Commerce last night decided to place an Orange county exhibit in the California State Fair, and Dr. H. S. Gordon, president, was authorized to appoint a committee of five to take charge of preparing for it.
Rev. J. Herndon Garrett, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has obtained leave of absence for two and a half months. He will put in most of the time on a lecture tour in the East. His subject will be "Twenty Years in California." He will carry an exhibit of Orange county products and literature from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.
SANTA ANA NOTES.
Judgment has been given in the Superior Court in favor of A. J. East and against A. J. Smith for $400. The suit for damages was brought on a contract made in 1905. The defendant agreed to buy from the plaintiff a certain quantity of oranges for $400. The suit was brought on the ground that the defendant had failed to pay for the oranges.

NOTICE TOO LATE.
Word to San Diego Police to Stop a Wedding Arrives After the Nuptials Are Over.
SAN DIEGO, June 4.—When Albert E. Marshall and Daisy E. Welter, a young couple of Pasadena, came here to marry yesterday, the general appearance of the bride and groom was that they were too young to be granted that privilege by the officials of the marriage license bureau. Yet they succeeded in convincing a deputy in the County Clerk's office that they were of the required age and the necessary certificate was issued to them. Rev. W. E. Crabtree married the couple soon after the certificate was issued. And thereby gave a tale of indignation parents.
It seems the young people evaded the parents of the bride by slipping her away from her home in Pasadena Tuesday night and taking a train for this city. When the bride and groom were discovered by the Pasadena police, they were taken to the city jail. A telegram was received at the city jail yesterday notifying the authorities there to not issue a license to the couple, with the information that the girl was only 17 years of age. No such warning was given to the County Clerk's office here and when the couple asked for a license, the County Clerk issued one for them. The bride and groom were taken to the city jail and the bride was held there until the morning. The bride's parents are now in the city jail and the bride is being held there until the morning.
PROMINENT MASON ILL.
Judge Norman H. Conklin, of the Superior Court, one of the few thirty-third degree Masons of Southern California, is critically ill at his home in this city and is not expected to recover. Judge Conklin was stricken with apoplexy early in the week and the stroke was followed by paralysis. He served with distinction in the army during the Civil War and is past commander of the Heintzelman Post, G.A.R. He has also held high offices in the various branches of Masonry.

Crabtree, pastor of the First Baptist Church, presided at the exercises. The exercises were held in the evening and were attended by a large number of guests. DOESN'T LET JURORS GO.
Superior Judge of Imperial County intimates That Grand Body Will Be Wanted Later.
EL CENTRO, June 4.—Imperial county's grand jury completed its third session for this year last evening and reported to Judge Franklin J. Cole of the Superior Court. Members of the jury expected their discharge, but Judge Cole expressed a desire for their continuance as a body until the end of the year, intimating that the jury would be required by the District Attorney in the fall. The grand jury yesterday made a report on the condition of the various county offices, in which the officials were commended and their office work was approved. As a result of the grand jury's labors there have been seven indictments issued. Four of these cases have been tried. Two indictments were afterward dismissed and one case is now before the Superior Court. This is that of "Dele Davis, a frontiersman, who is charged with assaulting a constable at Calexico and also with setting fire to the branch County Jail at Calexico where Davis was held."
EL CENTRO BRIEFS.
William C. Fells, a well-known real estate man of this county, has been adjudged insane. Judge Cole yesterday appointed J. H. Thomas as his guardian. Fells will be committed to the State Hospital at Patton. He is a well-known man in the county and has been a successful real estate man. He is now in the State Hospital at Patton.
The first carload of melons sent out from El Centro this season was sent June 2 by Crutcher & Woolfolk. The melons were grown at El Centro and Heber. Another carload will be sent out tomorrow morning by the El Centro Melon Growers' Association.
The Submarine Oil Company has had articles of incorporation with the County Clerk of Imperial county. The company's principal place of business is in El Centro.
